ApacheCon North America 2010 Meetups

Meetups will be held Monday through Thursday evenings at ApacheCon NA 2010, this 1-5 November in Atlanta. Meetups are onsite, and are free to all - conference registration is not required to attend, and we hope to get plenty of local attendees too!

Request Your Own Meetup!

We're looking to our PMCs and project communities to come up with ideas for Meetups at ApacheCon! Please add your Meetup Proposal below, and email the ApacheCon planners at planners-2010-na@apachecon.com with your Meetup idea. The best way to get a Meetup going is to create your own wiki page (linked from here) with a detailed overview, proposed starting agenda, and signup sheet, and then promote that within your user community to gauge interest.

BarCamp Apache groups welcome - please check below to see if we still have space available for any follow-on Meetups you might want to schedule!

Meetup Proposals - Add your proposal here!

A new Social/Widget/Gadget Portal Project?	Ate Douma	Wednesday Who is interested in a new Social/Widget/Gadget Portal/Site project, not based on nor tied to the old-style/outdated Java Portlet specification? We'd like to brainstorm with interested members of the community and related projects like Shindig, Wookie, Roller, Jackrabbit and others, about a new portal-like project, what features it should provide, and who would like to participate.	3
fillin	fillin	fillin - slots still available!	1

It's up to the community to arrange content for the Meetup, and although we'll provide what help we can with publicity etc, it's up to you to make sure that attendees know what's on and why they should care. You know your community better than we do, after all!

Officially Scheduled Meetups

The ApacheCon Planning team will update this grid with officially scheduled meetups in mid-October. Meetups can be scheduled for one or two hours from approximately 20:00 to 22:00. Monday/Tuesday we have 8 small rooms, which can be combined into 4 medium size rooms.

Offsite Meetups

If you are hosting an Apache-related Meetup during the week of ApacheCon NA 2010 between 1-5 November, please feel free to add the name, brief description, and a link to your Meetup page here.

What is a Meetup?

Read our detailed description of ApacheMeetups - they're similar to other Meetups, but focused on Apache projects or technologies - and they're often held in the evenings onsite at ApacheCon!
