

DocumentationReleaseGuidelines

=Documentation Release Guidelines=

The main website documentation should (more or less) only be updated for official releases. The nightly website is automatically updated by the nightly build scripts (or, at least, it will be once it is hooked in).

The Java Docs linked to from the main page are for the official release.