Xap Bridges

In XAP bridges are used to connect implementations of page logic with the XML tags that build the user interface.

This topic will describe how to build a bridge connecting a tag to custom code.