What is a BOF?

Birds Of a Feather, or BOFs, are where people of like interests flock together – small, focused talks or group sessions for 60 minutes with just the people you want to meet. Any attendee can propose a BOF. There is no special format, and while some people have a presentation used for discussion, it's often just a group of folks interested in the same topic having a lively discussion.

If you are interested in a BoF, add your proposal to the list. Other interested in your BoF can leave a note of support.
