I'll be in "The Vooruit" (<http://www.vooruit.be/>) around 9PM. We'll leave a note on the front door or at the bar if we start shopping around for dinner (or snacks rather, since Ghent doesn't have many real restaurants which still offer à la carte after 10PM)

For those who cater for a steakhouse close to the Vooruit which is open all night:

STENDHAL Schepenvijverstraat 10 9000 Gent 09 225 21 73

Just walk down to the "South/Zuid" across the water, ask directions for the small red light district - it's in a murky street but they do serve a fine piece of meat over there - and it should be open for late arrivals. The restaurant is well known amongst the night birders in Ghent as well.
