

PortalToolsUserManagement

PortalToolsUserManagement

The user management provided with the PortalTools framework is just a gui prototype. It grabs the user information from the authentication-context and has no real functions. For production use it must be connected to a datasource like LDAP or a database.