

CollaborativeManual

Our Collaborative Manual

The SpamAssassin community has created this collaborative documentation using a Wiki. These pages are edited by the community, and replace the previous FAQ.

Editing pages: To edit pages, please create a user profile for yourself using the UserPreferences page. (You need to register because it helps us prevent wiki spam.) Also, please make yourself a HomePage with your email address on it so you can be contacted if needs be. Once registered, you can edit any page by pressing the link at the bottom of the page.

Capitalized words joined together form a WikiName, which hyperlinks to another page. The highlighted title searches for all pages that link to the current page. Pages which do not yet exist are linked with a question mark: just follow the link and you can add a definition.

About Wiki's: A WikiWikiWeb is a collaborative hypertext environment, with an emphasis on easy access to and modification of information. This one runs on MoinMoin. To learn more about what a WikiWikiWeb is, read about MoinMoin:WhyWikiWorks and the MoinMoin:WikiNature. Also, consult the MoinMoin:WikiWikiWebFaq.

Interesting starting points:

- RecentChanges: see where people are currently working
- HelpForBeginners: to get you going
- HelpContents: An overview of the MoinMoin editing system
- HelpOnEditing: Editing pages, HelpOnPageCreation, HelpOnFormatting
- WikiSandBox: feel free to change this page and experiment with editing
- FindPage: search or browse the database in various ways.
- CategoryCategory – a list of Categories categorizing this wiki
- CategoryBayes – can generate a list of Bayes related pages
- CategoryHomepage – can generate a list of pages marked as homepages.