HttpComponents Board Resolutions

The Apache HttpComponents Project was established as a top-level project (TLP) in November 2007. Since then, the Apache Board of Directors has to approve several specific actions of the project management committee.

On this page, you can find links to the various resolutions of the HttpComponents project that were submitted to and approved by the Board of Directors.

Resolutions

1. Establishment of the Apache HttpComponents Project, November 2007
